

'Aboriginal Liberals Say 'NO' To Freedom of Speech'

“Thunder Bay-Rainy River MP and Liberal ‘Indigenous’ {‘Siberian settler’} Caucus chairman Don Rusnak is calling for the Conservative Party to remove Sen. Lynn Beyak...

“Sen. Beyak refused an invitation to meet with the Liberal Party’s ‘Indigenous’ Caucus, an organization for which Rusnak {who is mixed race – Ukrainian and aboriginal} serves as chairman.

{We call upon the Liberal Party of Canada to abolish its racist and segregationist ‘Indigenous’ {‘Siberian settler’} Caucus, as it is offensive and contrary to the anti-racist and integrative values of the people of Canada. Organizing on the basis of Race is a primitive and divisive tactic that undermines Canadian unity. Furthermore, we call upon the Liberal Party of Canada to expel overt racists – of all races – from its caucus and Party...}

“In response, Rusnak is calling on the Conservative Party to exhibit “deliberate and sincere action” regarding the legacy of residential schools, going beyond Beyak’s removal from the ‘Senate Standing Committee on Aboriginal People’.

“Interim Conservative Party Leader Rona Ambrose removed Beyak from the committee on Thursday for comments the Dryden Senator made casting residential schools in a positive light on March 7.

“In 2017, the House of Commons stands united, across party lines, in its efforts to confront the horrific legacy of the Residential School System and the systematic abuse of ‘Indigenous’ children,” Rusnak expressed in a written statement.

(You don’t get to speak for everyone...}

“Senator Beyak’s comments only perpetuate the ‘multi-generational trauma’ and lost trust felt by those who survived this dark chapter in Canadian history.”

“Rusnak expressed concern over Beyak’s continued defence of those comments as recently as April 1 when she responded to the Indigenous caucus’ invitation to meet by writing,

worked in the schools. Hundreds of letters of support to my office verify that obvious truth.”

“How can the Conservative caucus truly address the ‘horrific legacy’ of residential schools when one of their own continues to openly hold these views?” he posed...”

“The MP for Thunder Bay-Rainy River is welcoming the removal of Sen. Lynn Beyak from the Senate committee on ‘Aboriginal Peoples’.

“Don Rusnak says Beyak’s comments made last month, calling the work of men and women at residential schools “good deeds”, were ignorant and harmful, and have no place in Canada.

{Actually, it is the repression of Free Speech that has no place in Canada. Aboriginal racism continually tries to suppress any accurate historical representation and interferes with any legitimate attempts at moving forward. The constant portrayal of aboriginals as innocent victims and the rest of Canadians as evil is a racist fiction that must be confronted at every turn. The fact that overt racists are now elected to Parliament – providing they are aboriginal – indicates just how far Canada has gone down the wrong road...}

“Last month, the ‘Indigenous’ {‘Siberian settler’} ‘Liberal’

Caucus was disturbed by the ignorant and harmful comments that Conservative Lynn Beyak made about the Residential School System. Comments like these have no place in Canada {spoken like totalitarians} – especially in our country’s highest chambers of decision-making and civic responsibility.

{No, that’s EXACTLY where we need ALL opinions! Your disrespect for free speech and democracy is frightening..}

“The ‘Indigenous’ Caucus took the initiative to invite Senator Beyak to discuss the issue. In an e-mail to our ‘Indigenous’ Caucus dated April 1st 2017, Senator Beyak continued to defend her {accurate} comments, stating,

“My speech included a tribute to the good and well-intentioned men and women in my region and across Canada who worked in the schools. Hundreds of letters of support to my office verify that obvious truth.”

“While in her letter she notes “everyone needs more education”, Senator Beyak has refused an invitation to meet with the Liberal ‘Indigenous’ Caucus to discuss the matter further.

“We welcome the Leader of the Official Opposition, the Honourable Rona Ambrose’s decision to remove Senator Beyak from the ‘Senate Standing Committee on Aboriginal Peoples’, and we wish to thank all those who came forward to voice their concern and call for her removal. However, we must ask: How can the Conservative caucus truly address the horrific legacy of residential schools when one of their own continues to openly hold these views?

“According to Ambrose, Senator Beyak’s appalling views on the Residential School System are out of line with the Conservative Party’s history on the file. As Ambrose reminded us, it was former Prime Minister Stephen Harper who formally apologized for the federal government’s role in the Residential School System, so that the {Partial} ‘Truth and {One-way} Reconciliation Commission’ could be struck. In 2017, the House of Commons stands united, across party lines, in its efforts to confront the horrific legacy of the Residential School System and the systematic abuse of ‘Indigenous’ children. Senator Beyak’s comments only perpetuate the ‘multi-generational trauma’ and lost trust felt by those who survived this dark chapter in Canadian history...”
